

REMARKS

Claims 23-69 are pending in this application. Claims 23, 31, 38, 45, 54, and 62 are independent. We have canceled claims 1-22 without prejudice or disclaimer, and have added new claims 23-69. Reconsideration and further examination of the application is respectfully requested.

Summary of Interviews of July 21, 2010 and August 10, 2010 and Other Discussions

The undersigned spoke with Examiner Graham several times regarding the present application.

During a brief telephone discussion on June 16, 2010, the undersigned tentatively scheduled an interview with the Examiner and Primary Examiner Hani Kazimi for July 21, 2010. During the course of two brief telephone conversations between the undersigned and Examiner Graham on July 15, 2010 and July 19, 2010, the interview date of July 21, 2010 was confirmed.

On July 21, 2010, in a telephone interview, Examiner Graham and Primary Examiner Kazimi and the undersigned discussed the present application, as well as two other pending applications.

The undersigned explained to the Examiners that, notwithstanding any current rejections in the present application and in no way conceding the propriety of any current rejections in the present application, we would like to work with the United States Patent and Trademark Office to find common agreement to move the present application to allowance. Primary Examiner Kazimi in particular requested that the undersigned prepare and file Terminal Disclaimers on behalf of Applicants with respect to the two other pending applications under discussion. The undersigned and the Examiners also generally discussed potential claim language in the present application. No references were discussed. No agreement was reached, but the Examiners agreed to review and consider proposed amendments from the undersigned in the present application and the two other pending applications, notwithstanding the particular stage of prosecution in a particular pending application (e.g., after non-final Office Action, after final Office Action).

To advance prosecution and obtain early issuance of some subject matter this year rather than potentially forgo the issuance of any subject matter at all this year, the Terminal Disclaimers for the present application were provided to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office as requested on June 23, 2010. On June 26, 2010, in a brief telephone discussion with Examiner Graham, the undersigned explained that Terminal Disclaimers in the present application were filed on June 23, 2010.

On July 27, 2010, in a brief telephone conversation, the undersigned spoke generally with Examiner Graham regarding preparation of a proposed amendment.

Later that day, the undersigned sent proposed new claims to Examiner Graham and Primary Examiner Kazimi via electronic mail.

In two brief telephone conversations between the undersigned and Examiner Graham on July 30, 2010 and August 3, 2010, another interview with Examiner Graham and Primary Examiner Kazimi was tentatively scheduled for on or about August 10, 2010.

On August 4, 2010, the undersigned sent replacement proposed new claims to Examiner Graham and Primary Examiner Kazimi via electronic mail.

On August 10, 2010, in a second telephone interview, Examiner Graham and Primary Examiner Kazimi and the undersigned discussed the present application, as well as two other pending applications.

During the second telephone interview, the undersigned and the Examiners generally discussed the replacement proposed new claims in the present application. No agreement was reached. The Examiners requested that the undersigned file supplemental amendments in the present application and the two other pending applications. The undersigned agreed to do so in one of the two other pending applications.

We do not necessarily agree with or acquiesce in any characterization of any claim term or rejection of any claim that the Examiner may have made in any Interview Summary or during the pendency of the present patent application.

The undersigned greatly appreciates Examiner Graham's time and Primary Examiner Kazimi's time in speaking with the undersigned regarding the present application.

Examiner Graham is strongly encouraged to telephone our undersigned representative, Christopher Agnew, at (857) 413-2050 with any suggestions to advance prosecution and/or to resolve any condition that would impede allowance. Depending on the circumstances and not necessarily for reasons of patentability, we are willing to consider claim amendments and/or claim cancellations if such amendments and/or cancellations will, in our judgment, advance prosecution toward an earlier allowance and/or satisfy our current business objectives.

Claim Amendments

We do not necessarily agree with the propriety of or concede any of the arguments in the Office Action dated January 6, 2009 ("Office Action"). Nor do we concede that the Examiner made prima facie showings for the rejections in the Office Action. Applicants refer to Applicants' Reply to Office Action dated July 6, 2009 for additional arguments regarding earlier pending claims in this case.

Nonetheless, to advance prosecution and obtain early issuance of some subject matter this year rather than potentially forgo the issuance of any subject matter at all this year, we have canceled claims 1-22 without prejudice or disclaimer, and have opted to pursue new claims 23-69. Reconsideration and further examination of the application is respectfully requested. We respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejections.

We reserve the right to file any of the currently or previously canceled claims in, e.g., one or more continuing applications.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 101

In the Office Action, the Examiner rejected earlier pending claims 1, 19, 20, and 22 under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as allegedly being directed to non-statutory subject matter.

We do not necessarily agree with or concede any of the arguments in the Office Action regarding whether these previously pending claims were directed to patent-eligible subject matter. Nor do we concede that the Examiner made a prima facie showing that the earlier pending claims 1, 19, 20, and 22 were directed to non-statutory subject matter under 35 U.S.C. § 101.

Nonetheless, to advance prosecution and obtain early issuance of some subject matter this year rather than potentially forgo the issuance of any subject matter at all this year, we have opted to pursue new claims 23-69, rendering the rejections moot.

Reconsideration and further examination of the application is respectfully requested. We respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejections.

We respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejections.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

In particular, in the Office Action, the Examiner rejected earlier pending claims 1-22 under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as allegedly being unpatentable over Lupien et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,845,266 (“Lupien”) in view of Rossides, U.S. Patent No. 6,443,841 (“Rossides”).

We do not necessarily agree with or concede any of the arguments in the Office Action regarding, e.g., Lupien and Rossides. Nor do we concede that the Examiner made a prima facie showing that the earlier pending claims 1-22 were unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a). Applicants refer to Applicants’ Reply to Office Action dated July 6, 2009 for additional arguments regarding earlier pending claims in this case.

Nonetheless, to advance prosecution and obtain early issuance of some subject matter this year rather than potentially forgo the issuance of any subject matter at all this year, we have opted to pursue new claims 23-69, rendering these rejections moot.

In any event, none of the portions of Lupien or Rossides cited by the Examiner in the Office Action discloses or suggests “setting ... an initial price for a derivative financial instrument that represents a movie in an entertainment industry, in which setting the initial price comprises: setting the initial price for the derivative financial instrument based at least in part on a potential box office revenue for the movie,” as required by new independent claim 23. New independent claims 31 and 38 include similar language that is similarly not disclosed or suggested by the cited portions of Lupien or Rossides.

In any event, none of the portions of Lupien or Rossides cited by the Examiner in the Office Action discloses or suggests “setting ... an initial price for a derivative financial instrument that represents a movie talent in an entertainment industry, in which setting the initial price comprises: setting the initial price for the derivative financial instrument based at least in part on a popularity rating for the movie talent in the entertainment industry,” as required by new independent claim 45. New independent claims 54 and 62 include similar language that is similarly not disclosed or suggested by the cited portions of Lupien or Rossides.

Reconsideration and further examination of the application is respectfully requested. We respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejections.

General Comments on Dependent Claims

Since each of the dependent claims depends from a base claim that is believed to be in condition for allowance, we believe that it is unnecessary at this time to argue the allowability of each of the dependent claims individually. We reserve the right to specifically address the patentability of the dependent claims in the future, if deemed necessary.

Conclusion

It is believed that all of the pending claims have been addressed. However, the absence of a reply to a specific rejection, issue or comment does not signify agreement with or concession of that rejection, issue or comment. In addition, because the arguments made above may not be exhaustive, there may be reasons for patentability of any or all pending claims (or other claims) that have not been expressed. Finally, nothing in this paper should be construed as an intent to concede any issue with regard to any claim, except as specifically stated in this paper, and the amendment of any claim does not necessarily signify concession of unpatentability of the claim prior to its amendment.

We believe that the application is in condition for allowance, which action is respectfully requested at the Examiner's earliest convenience.

Respectfully submitted,
